

TIME NOW TO BE SERIOUS WILSON SAYS

PRESIDENT IN SPEECH FROM TRAIN DERIDES LEADERS OF G. O. P. WHO DEFEATED BOARD NOMINEE.

SAYS LOOK TO FUTURE

Terms Republican Leaders as "Backward Looking Men" at Time When They Should Look Forward.

Salisbury, N. C., May 20.—President Wilson, addressing a large crowd at the railway station here today, as he passed through on his way to Charlotte, attacked leaders of the republican party as men who "were looking backward."

Members of the press party declared he was referring to the fight led by Senator Gallinger in defeating the nomination of George Ruliffe to the Federal trade commission.

"There are very serious things to be done nowadays, ladies and gentlemen," said the president, "and it is a satisfaction to be associated with men who know how serious they are and in what spirit they must be approached. Because whether we will or not, we are at the beginning of a new way for the world, and America will have to play a very great part in that new age, and we will have to be very sure not to encourage or to give countenance to men who are trying to hold us back."

"There are some men, I do not believe they represent the great rank and file of the republican party, but the men who now control the republican party, are looking backward, not forward. They are not looking at the problem of the new day, and when ever I, for example, try to show my sympathy for the forward looking men of that sort, they at once try to block the progress."

"They have no sympathy for or with the forward looking men of their party. Now I am for the forward looking men, not for backward looking men. We have come down here to celebrate an historical episode, but we have no one here because we are looking backward. We have done it merely in order to give ourselves the excuse to get together and feel the thrill of being Americans and living in an age which it is worth while being Americans."

Makes Address. Charlotte, N. C., May 20.—President Wilson today addressed a crowd estimated at more than 100,000 gathered here for the 141st anniversary of the signing of the Mecklenburg declaration of independence. He was introduced by Governor Craig of North Carolina, who presided over the ceremony as one of the greatest men the nation has ever seen.

INCOME TAX RETURN ABOVE EXPECTATIONS

Washington Today Sees Forty Per Cent Excess of Figures Made at Time Congress First Met.

Washington, May 20.—Returns from the income tax for the coming fiscal year, are estimated at approximately $120,000,000 in revised figures, being completed by the treasury department. The exact amount which will be paid in dollars, probably will be known within the next few days.

The expected return of $120,000,000, $25,000,000 or over forty per cent more than officials estimated when congress convened.

Individuals are expected to pay approximately $62,500,000 and corporations $57,500,000.

$25,000,000 estimate includes commissions previously paid to mistakes for attempt to evade payments.

FEAR GRIPS YOUTH ON TRIAL FOR POISONING SWEETHEART

Photos taken during Orpet trial. William Orpet and his father in court (center). Judge Charles H. Donnelly (bottom). Left, attorneys for defense. Top to bottom: Leslie P. Hanna, James S. Wilkerson and Ralph Potter. Right, lawyers for prosecution. Top to bottom: David R. Joslyn, Eugene M. Runyard and Ralph F. Dady.

An outstanding feature of the trial of William H. Orpet, University of Wisconsin student charged in a Waaukegan (Ill.) court with the murder by poison of his sweetheart, Marian Lambert, is the nervousness of the defendant. Before the trial Orpet's attitude was that of cool defiance. But during the early days of the trial he broke down several times and was pale and nervous. The defense will try to prove that the Lambert girl, heartbroken because of Orpet's growing coolness toward her, committed suicide. The dead girl's father, Frank Lambert, has made a statement in which he declares he does not want to see Orpet hanged, but would like to see him sent to prison for "fourteen years or so," to reflect upon his sins. Judge Charles H. Donnelly is presiding at the trial.

SWEAR FOUR JURORS IN THE ORPET CASE AFTER WEEK'S WORK

Week's Examination of Veniremen Gets But Fourth of Number Needed to Conduct Trial.

Waaukegan, May 20.—The first panel of four jurors of the twelve men who will try William H. Orpet, the college boy accused of murdering his former sweetheart, Marion Lambert, was sworn in today after week spent in examination of veniremen.

The four who have met the approval of counsel for state and defense are Len Bartell, ice man of Antioch; H. F. King, farmer of Arago, and G. W. Willoughby, farmer of Waaukegan. Several special veniremen have been summoned from parts of the county distant from Lake Waubesa where the school girl was found last February in the snow in a patch of woodland not far from her home.

Chemical analysis shows that a quick acting poison was the cause, and the state's theory of the case is that the poison was given to the girl by Orpet, who had hired her, or that she was lead by him to take it in the form of a drink to relieve a condition brought about by their association.

ITCHY SALT RHEUM

Sometimes Called Eczema—Removed by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Salt rheum is one of the worst and unfortunately one of the most common of all diseases. How it reddens the skin, itches, oozes, dries and scales, and then does this all over again. Sometimes it covers the whole body with inflamed, burning patches and causes intense suffering, which is commonly worse at night.

Local applications may do some good, but they cannot permanently relieve. The disease will continue to annoy, pain and perhaps agonize, until the blood has been purified and the general health improved.

Ask your druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla, the good old reliable remedy. It has given perfect satisfaction in thousands of cases. Insist on having Hood's Sarsaparilla, for no substitute acts like it. Get it today.

MRS. WHITE WRITES FRIENDS FROM ITALY

Former Janesville Lady Has Interesting Letter—Subsca War Keeps Her In Italy.

Mrs. Celia Neil White, formerly of this city, daughter of the late Captain and Mrs. Neil, in a letter from Florence, Italy, where she is spending the winter, has written a letter to Mrs. William Sherer and Mrs. John Rexford. Until Germany shows its determination to accede to the request of President Wilson in the matter of submarine war, Mrs. White is emphatic in her intention of remaining in Italian terra firma. A portion of her time is spent in Red Cross work.

The letter follows:
"Florence, Italy,
"Feb. 20, 1916.

"I give half of my time to Red Cross work, which is very engaging and tiring, as I am constantly on my feet, but the satisfaction of being able to help is very sustaining. "I am getting quite expert in my line without rice, macaroni, sugar and flour, not in our pounds and ounces, but in kilos and grams. I prepare the trays, cutting the bread and filling the wine bottles, doing out the eggs and measuring the milk. I always make the lemonade, too, have made hogheads of it, and it is no circus lemonade either.

"The soldiers are such good, patient, courageous young fellows, and those that are but slightly wounded, or able to hobble around are very gay. There is no strict German discipline and they are allowed to play their violins and make music, sing, and even dance. They have concerts and even act out little plays.

"But a little later in the spring we know that the hospitals will be crowded and sad will be the day. So many now are brought down from the mountains with frozen toes or heels and often the entire foot has to be amputated.

"I have been trying to keep up my Italian work, but naturally have missed a great deal on that. However, have managed to study my Dante and attend all the lectures.

"We were to go home (in Cal.) by June first, but submarines are so frightfully dangerous now that we do not feel warranted to engage passage.

"This last proposition of Germany to sink at sight without warning merchant ships is simply awful. Whether armed or not no one could ever prove when at the bottom of the sea.

"Beautiful here all winter, particularly January and February ideal spring California weather.

"There has been a very good opera season, but the repertoire is too limited. We went three times each to several of them, but now are waiting for a new one soon to be put on by an American composer, Paul Allen of Boston, entitled 'The Last of the Mohicans.' It seems like a crazy idea and subject to me. He has had the libretto written by the same man who did it for Puccini's 'Girl of the Golden West.'

"We are also enjoying fine picture shows. There are always some war films at beginning or end, and I am most interested in the attitude of the audience. They root and howl and hiss the Germans and Austrians whenever they appear, but applaud warmly the allies. I must stop now and dress for lunch; have three minutes left.

"Mrs. White and Miss Hernandez have been living in Italy since March 1915, sending the summer months at the lakes and the winter months mostly in Rome and Florence.

FISHING SEASON OPENS ON MONDAY, MAY 29TH

Chairman James Nevin of the Wisconsin state conservation commission has received many letters from fishermen throughout the state inquiring when the season opens for game fish other than trout. He said that the last legislature had fixed the opening date for game fish except trout and with the exception of fish in certain small lakes and streams, for May 29. Fishermen may catch fish any time after midnight on May 29, Commissioner Nevin said.

Under the old law the season for game fish opened on Memorial day, May 30, but at the request of the G. I. H. the legislature has changed the date to May 29. Among the exceptions to the taking of fish on May 29 are the following:

The season for black bass in Devils Lake, Mirror Lake and Dell Lake in Sauk county opens on June 16. The season for rainbow trout in base, calico bass, silver bass and white bass and croppies in all lakes in Washington county opened on May 1; pickerel in Beaver Dam Lake and Fox Lake in Dodge county and Pine Lake in Cedar Lake in Washington county and Nesbrough mill pond in Marquette county on May 1.

The foregoing are the principal exceptions to the provisions of the law for an open season for game fish on May 29.

Mr. Lewis as secretary of the Navy League of the United States, has organized the idea of transferring Platt's lies from land to water. This plan has been approved by the board of the Navy League. This new naval camp will be established on the shores of Lake Michigan at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station and will be in operation the year round.

Mr. Lewis has awakened Chicago and the middle west to the need of a great preparedness demonstration and has organized the business interest of Chicago for a preparedness parade, to be held June 3rd.

The Brotherhood of the Presbyterian church extend a cordial invitation to the public to hear Mr. Lewis. Many members of the Twilight club were disappointed in not hearing him a few months ago, at which time, owing to a conference at Washington, Mr. Lewis could not be present. He may consider this a special invitation for them to come to this illustrated lecture.

The members of the Brotherhood are planning to have a sixtieth dinner at the church, for those who care to meet Mr. Lewis. Those caring for tickets please speak to Rev. G. E. Partridge.

COUNTY "Y" BANQUET PLANS BEING MADE

Third Annual Meeting of Rock County Association Planned for Week From Next Wednesday.

Arrangements are well under way for the third annual banquet of the Rock County Young Men's Christian association banquet which will be held on the evening of Wednesday, May 31. Secretary L. A. Markham early next week will send out invitations to the meeting. At least one hundred men and boys interested in the work are expected to be in attendance.

A big and interesting program is now being arranged in detail. Efforts to secure R. P. Perry of Reedsburg as the principal speaker of the evening have been successful. Mr. Perry, having notified the committee that he will be present. He is president of a Reedsburg bank and also a member of the Wisconsin country Y. M. C. A. body.

WILL CONFER WITH RAILROAD OFFICIALS

City Attorney Will Take Matter of Building Glenn Street Sewer Through Embankment.

City Attorney W. H. Dougherty has been directed by the council to go to Chicago in the near future to confer with the officials of the St. Paul and Chicago & North Western Railroad companies over the right of the city to construct the proposed Glenn street sewer. Attorney Dougherty reported that he expected to make an extensive search of the city records to ascertain if the city ever vacated Glenn street and whether the railroad companies ever had any legal right to build their lines over the street. After the fact is determined a conference will be held with the proper railroad officials at Chicago, or in this city, as desired by the railroad company.

WAR PICTURES ARE BEST YET

"On the Firing Line With the Germans" at Show at Myers Theatre Last Evening Worth Seeing.

Those who last evening viewed the German war pictures at Myers Theatre witnessed what undoubtedly the most remarkable pictures taken during the present great war.

Step by step the pictures take the audience from Rotterdam to Berlin, unfold the life of the German nation depicting personages like Kaiser, the crown prince and crown princess and men of the German general staff, passing into the war country and showing the German army advancing against the Russians; accompanying General Von Hindenburg's army into Warsaw and General Von Beaulieu's army into the triumphant assault on the Russian stronghold of Novorossiysk. Nothing can begin to reveal the conditions in that devastated country like the motion picture.

Photographically these pictures are a credit to the photographer. There is a lack of grayness throughout the 3,000 feet of film. Sharp black and white lines reflect the objects clearly and there isn't that real flicker evident in most pictures taken at the front.

COUNTY SCHOOL OFFICIAL MEETING MADE CLEAR BY SUPT. ANTISEL

Somewhat of a misunderstanding exists on the part of the county school officers in the time of the district school meetings and in the time of the annual county school convention. The annual school district meetings must be held on the first Monday in July. The general county convention is to be held in Janesville on the sixth of July this year if possible. Supt. O. D. Antisel has announced. At the county school board convention, clerks of all school districts are required by law to be present. The law provides that three members of each district school board—two members aside from the clerk—must attend the meeting, their compensation being two dollars per day and mileage.

AT MYERS THEATRE.

Standing Room Only at the Myers. Sherman Kelly and his big company will open a week's engagement at the Myers theatre next Monday, May 22d, and it is a settled fact that when the Sherman Kelly Stock company plays a town it is a case to be on hand early for tickets or not get in, for very seldom are any tickets left a few hours after the sale opens each morning, and there is only one answer to these conditions; that is that Mr. Kelly carries a real show and offers it to the people at popular prices.

It has always been the motto of the Sherman Kelly company, to "Make 'Em Laugh," and Kelly states that his show this season are more on the laughing order than ever before, edgy parts he ever had the pleasure of playing in his career.

All new plays are one of the main features with the show this season and they will open their engagement with a new musical comedy entitled "My Dream Girl," with vaudeville music and girls.

Ladies will be admitted free Monday night if tickets are purchased before 6:00 p. m. Monday.

AT BEVERLY THEATRE.

De Wolf Hopper on Sunday. De Wolf Hopper's debut as a motion picture star is announced for Sunday at the Beverly theatre. The long comedian will be seen as the leading member of the "Triangle-Fine Arts" company presenting a new vision of the Cervantes classic, "Don Quixote."

David W. Griffith, under whose supervision the production was made, believes that "Don Quixote" accomplishes a distinct step forward for film drama, and that it has a definite and positive educational value.

Most readers will doubtless remember the old Don as a middle-aged individual who tried to defeat a windmill with his lance, but came a cropper, and will recall that this had something to do with his thinking himself a knight errant riding about the world to redress wrongs. But there is much more than that to the story. Cervantes, in his satire, not only pokes fun at the impractical idealist, but creates a character of immortal fame and a humorous narrative that is virtually without a plot.

Hopper is said to have achieved a most faithful interpretation of the character. In his support Fay Tincher appears as Dukeino, Max Davidson, Sancho Panza, Rhea Mitchell, Lucinda Chester Withey, Don Fernando. And lastly there are Rosinante and Papito, the Don's ancient steed and Sancho's educated mule.

Youngster's Neat Hint. There was some sparkling red cider in the ice box and little Alfred spied it. He wanted some, but could think of no way of getting it except by direct request. He glanced at sister and then back at the cider, remarking: "My, every time I look at that cider I feel so jolly!"

The Greatest Rubber initiatives of the Age have been developed in GOODRICH Laboratories,—a group of buildings purposely isolated, and remote from the Factory

INTEGRITY—and the House —behind the Tire

THE greatest Word in the whole Lexicon of Commerce is NOT "Service!" It is "INTEGRITY!" Because, that term embodies Good-faith,—Dependability,—the Intention to play fair, at any cost, as well as good Service.

Its essence, so far as business is concerned, consists in living-up to the last letter of that Americanism,—"The Square Deal."

It demands from its practitioners not only a due respect for the Rights of Others (whether they be strong enough to enforce these Rights, or weak enough to be at the mercy of the strong) but goes further.

It implies a charitable attitude toward those well-meaning persons who see "Rainbows," and who cannot live up to promises they really intended to keep.

An old-fashioned Virtue is this "Business Integrity,"—sometimes crowded close to the Wall by that modern idolatry called "Business-Expediency."

But,—there being something MORE than Money, worth striving for, in Business-Expansion, (as well as Money) this old-fashioned Virtue lives on, thrives and flourishes, in many quarters, like the Folk-Songs of a Nation that never die.

May we here pay tribute to "BUSINESS-INTEGRITY," wherever it abides, and,—with all due modesty,—CLAIM it as the Watch-word which has ruled Goodrich Activities over 47 years of Rubber Manufacturing, Selling, and DELIVERING?

—This, exclusive of the Good-will, Prestige, and Public Confidence that flows from 47 years consistent practice of such a Policy, which may well be worth as much more, in personal satisfaction, to each Goodrich Stockholder, each enthusiastic Officer, and each loyal Employee of the B. F. Goodrich Co.

But, "How does this Concern YOU, the Consumer?"—you now ask. It concerns you, first of all, as a proof that Square-dealing, Straight-thinking,—and Business-Integrity PAYS,—even in Coin of the Realm.

It concerns each Parent,—and the Son and Daughter of each Parent,—as a vivid demonstration of the fact that the modern god of "Expediency," is a false god,—and that all the brilliant feats, and dexterous manipulation of facts, which pass current as "Expediency" are needless, for permanent Success.

It concerns the Consumer of, or the Dealer in, Rubber Goods because he knows that, in dealing with a House of Integrity he can TRUST the Statements, the Products and Trade-Marks, of such a House. Implicitly,—can save Time and Trouble and can abandon that costly and unpleasant Watchfulness which is necessarily involved in buying anything under the old Law of Caveat Emptor, (let the Buyer beware).

WHEN, therefore, the largest Rubber Factory in the World (with a 47 year Experience in Rubber-Working) and 47 years of Business-Integrity, Good-faith demonstration, and Square-dealing, TELLS you that Money can't buy BETTER Fabric Tires, at any price than Goodrich Fabric Tires at their very moderate "Fair List" price,—you can well AFFORD to believe it.

When they tell you that nothing but Business Integrity prevents their charging you prices as high as those charged for other Makes of Tires, of no better quality, you can rely upon this:—

The difference in price is then a REAL Saving. It is the Cash Value, to you, of dealing with a House which has made "Integrity" its Watch-word through 47 years of Rubber Manufacturing and Selling, and which has never yet sacrificed Principle to Profit, nor Good-faith to Expediency.

Then accept this SAVING which Goodrich Integrity brings to you every time you buy the best Fabric Tires in America, at the following "Fair List" prices:

Goodrich "Fair-List" Prices

Goodrich "Barefoot" Tires

LIGHT in weight, and close grained,—because relatively free from inert substances or "fillers" that give excess Weight to Rubber, at the expense of Liveliness, Springiness and Endurance. Goodrich Safety-tread Tires, of black "Barefoot" Rubber, are therefore Lively, Springy, Clingy, and Long-lived.

Through their high Pneumatic quality, they give "Pep" to Car-Action, while stretching out Mileage, per Dollar invested, in a way that sets Users thinking.

More than 200 different Makes and Brands of Auto Tires were made and sold in U. S. A. last year, 1915, to the total extent of about 12,000,000 Automobile Tires. Of that 12,000,000 total Tires, the B. F. Goodrich Co. made and sold one-fourth.

Yet,—Tires are only one of the 267 different lines made by the Goodrich Rubber Factory.

This indicates why Goodrich Best-in-the-Market Fabric Tires can be, and are, sold to Consumers (via Dealers) at the lowest price in America per delivered Mile of Performance.

1915 " " " "	14,000

These Change-overs to Goodrich tell their own story to the thinking Truck Owner.

Goodrich Bicycle Tires

HERE, in America, the B. F. Goodrich Co. was the first and largest Maker of Pneumatic Bicycle Tires, developing, among other types, the famous "Thread-Fabric" Tire called the Palmer Bicycle Tire.

"Integrity" of Construction, and Square-Deal in Treatment of Consumers and Dealers, results in our holding this largest business in America, on Bicycle Tires, as well as on Truck Tires,—and Automobile Tires.

thing to do with our attitude concerning it. Every boy aspires to be a man, long before he reaches his majority, and every girl has an ambition to be a woman while yet in her teens.

The first two decades of life represent the restless as well as the care-free period. The years of dreaming and castle-building as well as the years of play and preparation. The period when worries do not annoy and when but little thought is given to the future.

The next two decades represent the years of finding the niche to which we are best adapted. The years when practical knowledge is acquired, and applied. The years which determine success or failure. The boy who is not a fixture before the age of thirty seldom becomes a fixture, and the girl, at the same age is either established in a home or some chosen occupation.

These are the decades of mating and of home building. The years when the prattle of children enliven the household, and when the destiny of the family is determined—the busiest as well as the happiest years of life. We never fully realize what these years possess until they are past. The memory which comes to the grandmother, in her years of feebleness, lingers about this period of life. It is a sacred memory, and she would gladly call back the years so full of care and sacrifice and live them over again.

The next two decades represent the finished product of man and womanhood. Men seldom change their occupation after they reach the age of forty, and women are usually fixated before that age. The man who is a bachelor at forty makes a poor substitute for a husband and father, and the maiden, at the same age, has lost the sentiment of girlhood, so necessary to a happy home.

These decades are crowded with hard work and responsibility. Hopes and ambitions are either blasted or realized. It is the mature age when men and women are at their best.

The age when we commit slow suicide by burning the candle at both ends, for while nature rebels, and hangs out warning signals, we are poor observers and seldom look far enough ahead to recognize the era of enforced idleness which crosses every pathway.

The man who is dependent on the work of his hands is fortunate if well established in old employment as he approaches the age of sixty, for the industries are closed to men who are sliding down toward the last lap of the journey.

It is not surprising that young people, or people in middle life, ignore the future. They are so full of health and vigor that they never dream of being old, and many of them are so thoughtless that they abuse health and fortune to such an extent that they find themselves bankrupt when they arrive at mature life.

Time slips by with relentless speed and a sharp turn of the wheel is often necessary to remind us that there is a limit to human endurance. The last lap of the journey should be peaceful, and may be, if it represents the preparation which we owe to ourselves, and which may be provided through the stages of the long journey.

Canes of Rhinoceros Horn.

Probably some of the most expensive canes to manufacture are those from rhinoceros horns. Such a cane, when made of one piece of horn, often costs as high as $500. The high price is due to the expert treatment which the rhinoceros horn requires immediately after the beast has been slain.

TELLS WHAT SHE THINKS.

Anna Hawn, Cedar Grove, Mo., writes: "We think Foley Cathartic Tablets are the best liver pill we ever got hold of, as they do not nauseate or grip, but act freely on the liver. Any one in need of a liver pill, if he once tries them, would not be without them." Recommended for indigestion, constipation, bloating, sour stomach, gas on the stomach, bad breath or other condition caused by clogged or irregular bowels. Stout persons like the light, easy, buoyant feeling they give.—W. T. Sherer.

The Daily Novelette

Ain't it Marvellous?
Oh, terrapin!
You'll heaven-sent dish,
You fill the palate's,
Every wish.

The great detective had O'Sullivan in and out of eighteen restaurants, but so far he had been unable to find one with a record of a customer's having ordered diamond back terrapin.

Beating! Beating! Eureka! Also, at last! The head waiter of the Cafe Percy furnished the long-sought clue.

"Diamond back terrapin? Oh, oh, yes, ya! You see that gentleman at the center table, surrounded by the ring of awestruck waiters? He is eating diamond back terrapin."

"My man!" chuckled the great detective. And he strode up and clapped handcuffs on the fellow.

"You have $100,000 which belongs in the vaults of the 66th National Bank of Skanteh, Maryland," said the great detective.

"How do you know?" queried the defaulting cashier wonderingly.

"Nothing simpler," explained the great detective kindly. "Any man born and bred in Maryland, with all that sudden wealth, would naturally incorporate himself by gorging himself on diamond back terrapin at every meal. Step this way, please."

"It's a pleasure to be pinched by a man of your discernment," said his prisoner, stepping that way, but he sighed as he remembered that they were leaving almost a whole $7.69 order of terrapin behind.

Lead Pencil Materials.

Siberia produces the best graphite for lead pencils thus far discovered. That is the source of supply for the German pencils. Australia, as well as Siberia, produces the material for an indelible pencil. America has a fair amount of lower grade graphite.

ABOUT THE MOST NECESSARY ARTICLE IN THE HOME THESE WARM DAYS IS THE REFRIGERATOR

It is simply next to impossible to keep milk, cream, fresh vegetables or fruits during the sultry months of weather ahead. WASTE, INCONVENIENCE, ANNOYANCE, isn't to be compared with the small cost of owning your own ice chest. The fact that the majority of your neighbors cannot keep house without one is the most convincing argument that you should install one today.

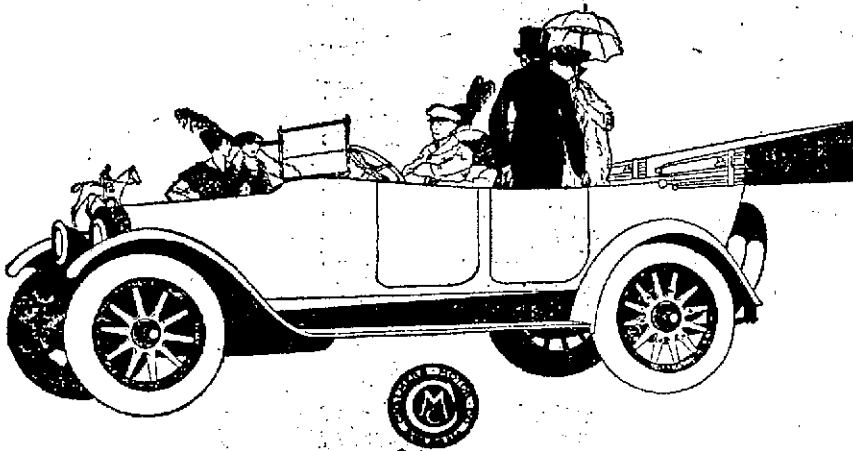

IF YOU DON'T OWN AN ICE CHEST today is the time to select it. Now is the time to get the most good from its possession. To procrastinate is to rob yourself of one of the most modern home comforts.

ONE MONTH'S ICE FREE WITH EACH NEW REFRIGERATOR PURCHASED FROM ANY OF THESE THREE DEALERS:

This Six-40 Seven-Passenger Chalmers $1450 Detroit

THE ANSWER

Selling this Six-40 is the easiest thing I do.

I sell her on looks or performance, and at a saving of $550.

The past master, the man who knows cars from A to Z, is quickest to buy. I put him in. He drives twice around the block, through a stretch of sand or mud, up a bad grade, and usually says "She's mine."

Her performance—that's the answer.

Selling the inexperienced man is easy, but not quite so easy. I first sell his eyes. I let him look her over; note her lines and color. He couldn't avoid her color. For she gives a pleasant shock to the optic nerve, finished in any one of three refreshing shades—Oriford maroon or Valentine green, with hoods to match; or Meteor blue with black hood.

Then I get him in the car and demonstrate. Five or ten miles suffices. He then begins indicating his willingness to put his signature on the order.

After all, I don't rely on sales conversation to sell the Six-40. I leave it largely to a man's instincts.

Because I know performance is something you must recognize. She's there with the punch; she's got the everlasting spunk and go. And there's no need explaining why you ought to buy. You know why, full well. Her performance furnishes the answer.

No, you can't dodge performance. And therefore you can't get away from this Six-40, once you've driven her.

She's like a young cavalry horse. Throw away your crop and spurs and just watch 'er go.

On hills or wherever power is paramount she has more of the faithful old Norman blood in her veins. She's never beaten back by opposition. She knows no such thing as a back-breaking load.

She combines the agility of a Mercury with the strength of a Samson whose power can bend, break or crush.

You've a new and rich sensation to enjoy if you never have set foot to her accelerator.

You'll say "She's there" and you'll know why $9,000,000 worth of Six-40 Chalmers have been bought in the last five months by persons who intended paying not less than $2,000 for a car.

You'll know why they gave one look and bought and saved $550 in the transaction.

I'll make this challenge—throw my hat in the center of the ring: A man possessed of all his senses and faculties, I will sell in half an hour.

I am ready to match a half hour of my time against a half hour of yours today. Come on with your big guns.

Performance—that's the answer.

Ask me about Chalmers service inspection coupons, negotiable at all Chalmers dealers everywhere. This system is a most important consideration in buying your car.

60 DAISY DEAN

Welsh rarebits are known to most people for the dreaded haunting visions that follow their consumption; but Vivian Martin, the popular little screen star, has no fear of the consequences. She makes rarebits herself and eats them ravenously. Acting before the camera affords Miss Martin many thrills at the film studio in Los Angeles and she is most happy when doing a big dramatic part. However, when the day's work is done and she is at home in her pretty bungalow, she makes rarebits in the manner shown in the picture, just to prove to her friends that her abilities do not all lie in screen acting.

LOTS OF LAUGHS
IN "BASEBALL BILL"
The second of the baseball series to be known as "Baseball Bill" is now in production under the direction of Smiling Billy Mason. Many of the big punches of this comedy are occasioned by a new device for "preparation" in the form of a powerful magnet which snatches all metal from the hands of the enemy. In this Bill and Penpoints have some very notable experiences when they are overtaken by old man Hard Luck. The coming genius of the diamond, in order to satisfy his hunger, is forced to wear the garb of a woman, playing the role of a bashful girl who he woos the Swede who owns the beanyery. Supporting Mason in this are O. C. Jackson, Al Russell and Victor Potel.

"The Valiants of Virginia," a screen adaptation of the Hallie Erminee Rives novel of the same name, is being filmed. The subject will be in the reels, with Kathryn Williams as the star, and the cast will consist of practically every member of the Los Angeles studio stock company.

Lionel Barrymore, who recently made a picture, entitled "Dorian's Divorce," with Grace Valentine working opposite him, is to be starred alone in a picture called "The Quitter."

Blanche Sweet is completing a photoplay called "The Thousand Dollar Husband." James Young is directing it.

AT BEVERLY THEATRE.

"Cross Currents" Tonight.
A thrilling story of an older sister's sacrifice for a younger one, and her child is told in the new Triangle production, "Cross Currents," which is being seen at the Beverly theatre tonight. Helen Ware plays the role of the older sister, Elizabeth Crane, and Teddy Sampson that of Flavia Crane, the younger sister. Courtney Foote appears as Paul Beale, the fiancé of Elizabeth, who afterward marries Flavia.
Weber and Fields in Comedy.
There has always been a magic about the name of Weber and Fields. For many years their first night performances were the most notable events on Broadway. It was nothing uncommon for a single box at such showings to sell for $100 and sometimes a single seat fetched $50. There was something irresistibly comic about the appearance of the pair, and they have never shown to better advantage than in the new Keystone, "The Worst of Friends," also at the Beverly tonight.

AT BEVERLY THEATRE.

"The Ne'er-Do-Well" Coming.
Rex Beach's greatest story, "The Ne'er-Do-Well," filmed by the Selig Polyscope company, will be presented by Manager Hogan of the Beverly theatre to all lovers of high class film drama on Wednesday and Thursday. This wonderful film play is in ten acts and made in the Panama Canal Zone, where a company of Selig players repaired in order to secure realistic atmosphere.
The hero is Kirk Anthony, a college graduate and veteran football player, and since graduation the coach of his university team. On the evening following a football victory the last of the season, Kirk and others start out to celebrate. Late that night he finds himself on shipboard, and when he awakens he is without money and without baggage. During the voyage, Kirk becomes acquainted with a woman—Mrs. Stephen Corlandt—who he learns to admire very much. She is really a diplomatic agent of great influence. One day while Kirk is out hunting for a forest bower, a Spanish girl who is known only as "Chiquita," he falls desperately in love with her and tries vainly to discover her identity.

The story of his making good, of his winning of Chiquita, despite the counter-plotting of Mrs. Corlandt, of the clearing of his name, and of the final decisive intervention, in Panamanian affairs, of old Darwin K. Anthony, is strongly engrossing and Vivian Martin making a Welsh rarebit.

Her friends say that if she gets tired of being an actress she can take up bookbinding. She is now working on a multiple-reel feature which will be released in a few weeks.

varied by many richly humorous episodes.
Chiquita is by far the most charming feminine character Rex Beach has drawn, and Kathryn Williams as Edith Corlandt, is an exceedingly convincing and fascinating type.
Reserve seats go on Sale Monday.

AT THE APOLLO.

"Now She is 'The Saleslady.'"
"One yard, yes, that blue matches all right." The voice is that of Hazel Dawn, the celebrated Famous Players star, who actually went behind the ribbon counter of one of the far-famed department stores of New York to obtain the proper atmosphere and settings for her next Paramount picture, "The Saleslady," which is the attraction at the Apollo on Monday.
Hazel Dawn has done many interesting and captivating impersonations on the screen but nothing which approaches in sympathetic interest Helen Shirley, the country lass when poverty forces into New York in search of a living.
In "The Saleslady," Miss Dawn goes through many vicissitudes. She goes to a cheap boarding house, but is soon divested of her last penny in the effort to save the life of a consumptive girl.
Helen marries a wealthy young chap who is promptly disinherited by his father for wedding a shop girl. He is injured and Helen is forced to live on the stage in order to earn a living. She is successful after a time and wins high laurels. It is during her stage career that she meets a man whose influence on her later life is all-important.
Miss Dawn is supported by Irving Cummings, Clarence Handysides, Arthur Morrison, Dorothy Rogers, Janet Pindley and several others of equal prominence.

AT THE APOLLO.

Fannie Ward on Wednesday.
Fannie Ward, the distinguished star of the Lasky Company, who recently created such a furore by her splendid performance in the Lasky production of Hector Turnbull's gripping story, "The Cheat," will be seen at the Apollo on Wednesday, in the Jesse L. Lasky production "For the Defense," a daring detective story by the same author. In "For the Defense," Miss Ward is seen as Fidele, a little French novice, fresh from the convent. How she witnesses a murder and later is able to secure a confession from the assassin and free the man she loves, makes a photodrama of unusual merit.
Prominent in the excellent cast supporting Miss Ward are Jack Dean, Horace B. Carpenter, James Nell, Camille Astor, Gertrude Keller and other members of the Lasky all star organization. It is a Paramount picture.

AT MYERS THEATRE.

After a phenomenally successful engagement of two months at the Grand theatre, Chicago, Taylor Holmes and the original cast will be seen at Myers theatre Tuesday evening, June 6th.
"What a man believes himself to be he is" is the keynote of "His Majesty Bunker Bean." Throughout his life Bunker Bean has been a cringing, helpless youth, afraid to assert himself under any circumstances. Through the belief that he is the reincarnation not only of Napoleon Bonaparte, but of Ram-Tah, a powerful early Egyptian king, Bunker finds himself, and wins, not only in business but in love as well.
The title role will be portrayed by Taylor Holmes, the young comedian who is being starred by Joseph Brooks. In his support will be Charles Abbe, Florence Shirley, Robert Kelly, Jack Devereaux, Lillian Lawrence, Walter J. Sherwin, Marion Kerby, Clara Louise Moore, Harry C. Fowler, Horace Mitchell, Grace Peters, John Hogan, Belford Forrest, Annette Westbay and George C. Lyman.

AT THE APOLLO.

"Madame Butterfly" Coming Back Thursday.
"Madame Butterfly," John Luther Long's universally beloved work, is repeated at the Apollo Theatre on Tuesday with the incomparable Mary Pickford in the celebrated role of Chio-Chio-San.
"Madame Butterfly" was written about twenty years ago and first gained the attention and admiration of the theatrical world when David Belasco produced it with Blanche Bates in the leading role in which she scored one of the greatest successes of her career. In 1914 the great Puccini, charmed by the infinite pathos of the tale, wrote about it one of the most exquisite musical settings that has ever been heard on any operatic stage. Two years later the opera was introduced into this country by Henry W. Savage, and it has ever since been one of the most popular offerings of the musical world.

Now it is immortalized upon the screen as a Paramount Picture. It is altogether fitting that Mary Pickford, the foremost photoplay star in the world, should be chosen to appear in "Madame Butterfly," which has the distinction of being the first work of an American author to be made the basis of a grand opera.

AT BEVERLY THEATRE.

"The Five Faults of Flo" on Monday.
The attraction at the Beverly on Monday is a Mutual Masterpiece comedy drama entitled "The Five Faults of Flo."
An all star cast makes this a feature that will please all. A comedy will also be included on the bill.

On The Firing Line With The Germans

JUST BROUGHT BACK BY WILBUR H. DUREBOROUGH, WAR PHOTOGRAPHER, WHO TOOK THEM ON THE BATTLEFIELD WHILE WITH THE GERMAN ARMY. See actually more of the German battle lines than many German soldiers witness. See with the eye of a motion picture camera that traveled by auto with Von Hindenburg's army—that peered over first line trenches of the enemy—that dashed through shot and shell, over the battle in an aeroplane. Witness the Germans assailing the fortress of Novo Georgevski—declared impregnable—with infantry, artillery, machine guns, cavalry, aeroplanes—constantly attacking day and night for a full week. They captured trench after trench by desperate open field charges against a hail of bullets. Then the big guns wrecked the last ramparts of Russian Poland. See these thrilling, vivid, terrific spectacles. See seven consecutive months of war—hospitals, armies, camps, prisoners, great supply trains as well as the battles. Don't miss this brilliant photoplay of events you read about just a short time ago—brought direct from the reach of deadly bullets.

WOMAN'S PAGE

Heart and Home PROBLEMS

—By—
MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON
Letters may be addressed to
MRS. THOMPSON
In care of the Gazette.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am twenty-four years old. For five years I have been going with a young man three years my senior. For a long time I loved him with all my heart and I thought I would never be happy unless he asked me to become his wife. All this time he called me his best little friend and he never said that if he ever married he hoped his wife would be as sweet as I. Last summer I met another young man who asked me to marry him. He said that he wanted me himself and that after going with him for five years he has a claim on me. I think he is wrong. What do you think?

When I told the other man that I was going to marry my new friend he said that it would simply kill him to have me. He said that he wanted me himself and that after going with him for five years he has a claim on me. I think he is wrong. What do you think?

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) I am a girl eighteen years old and will graduate from high school this June. I have a girl friend living in another town who is married and would like to send her one of my pictures. I do not want her to send me a present. Should I send the picture after graduation?

(2) Ought one of my announcements and name card accompany it?

or should my picture and name card be together in one envelope and my announcement and other name card in a separate envelope?

(3) If it should be sent after graduation, how soon, or how soon if before?

(4) I have a married friend living in my home town. Should I send my picture to her to take it myself?

(5) Should any letter accompany the one which I am to send out of town?

(6) She would be less apt to give you a present you sent the picture after graduation.

(7) An announcement and card should be sent in a separate envelope.

The announcement should be sent immediately after graduation. The picture could be sent at the same time or a few weeks later.

(8) Either way would be all right. If you see your friend often take it to her.

(9) A letter is not necessary.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: A's mother and B's father are first cousins. What relation is A to B?

(2) Could A and B get married according to the laws of Wisconsin?

(3) A has proposed marriage, and although A loves B, A is rather backward about answering for she has heard that when first cousins marry and have children, they are usually deformed.

What is your opinion? I wish you could advise me as to what to do?

(4) What will remove moles?

(5) I have a delicate shade of pink dress (silk). Could I clean it in gasoline or would you advise me to have it cleaned?

(6) Will shoes be worn all summer? Also pumps?

(7) A and B are second cousins. (8) There is no law which forbids second cousins marrying.

(9) It is not considered safe for first cousins to marry. I would not advise A and B to marry. If a reliable physician assured me that neither my cousin nor I had bad tendencies I think I should marry him if I loved him.

(10) Nitric acid. Apply it with a little cotton batting on the end of a tooth pick.

(11) The result would be better if you had a claim on him. However, would not injure the silk.

(12) Both pumps and shoes will be worn all summer, as usual.

Everybody here has her own special interest. But really home to attend to, and there is next to nothing getting on. I positively hate this tiresome flat country and this tiresome flat life. Ethel spoke with fire.

"May I tell you just what I think would help you to overcome the homesickness, and grow to like the place?" asked Neil soberly.

"Do prescribe for me. I am sick unto death of the whole life," begged Ethel.

"You don't seem much interested in your home," began Neil haltingly. "I mean you leave everything for the maid to see to. I think you would find it very interesting if you studied homemaking."

"Why, I got so it was as exciting as a game, trying to see if I could keep my household expenses down to a certain sum. Really it was great pleasure to make ends meet when they need a little stretching. Of course you have not the same need that I had, for my husband's salary was small when we first came here, but I thought—"

"Really I do not like your remedy. I think it worse than the disease," said Ethel in tones of disappointment. "I hate fussing over money matters, and now you advise me to think of that as a cure for homesickness. I cannot imagine. Thank you just the same for your interest, though. For Neil looked hurt."

It is very kind of you to interest yourself in my woes," Ethel threw a smile with no merriment in it over her shoulder as she turned toward the house.

Household Hints

THE SUNDAY DINNER

Crackers. Pickles.
Roast Pork. Apple Sauce.
Brown Sweet Potatoes.
Cabbage, Baked. Blanc Mange.
Strawberry Shortcake. Coffee.

SANDWICHES

Honey and Nut Sandwiches—Mix one cup of honey with two cups of lemon juice, then stir in enough finely chopped nut meats to make a stiff paste. Spread on slices of buttered bread cut in pieces, place together and serve.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING

To get rid of ants, try black pepper or salt, also sage; instead of red pepper and borax.

Put a small box on back of ribbon rosettes, and make neat thread eyes on dress, in places desired; a plain little box may be transformed at a moment's notice. Same idea may be carried out in children's bonnets in putting on ribbon rosettes, ties, etc.

THE TABLE

Stuffed Veal—We had Tomatoes-Rice Dish (will serve four people)—Get 2½ pounds veal; have a pocket cut in it. Wash well, rub all over with lemon juice. Make a dressing as follows:

One half cup of butter, one half cup of water until soft, squeeze as dry as possible. Now into a frying pan put two tablespoons butter; when hot add three well-chopped onions and fry until yellow. Add to bread—Now chop one bunch parsley and add, with salt, pepper and pinch of sage; also two well-beaten eggs. Mix all together well. Stuff pocket and sew up. Roast about two hours slowly, basting often. This is delicious as well as cheap. With this you can serve tomatoes fixed as follows: One tablespoon butter and one of sugar beaten with the yolks of two eggs. Allow fruit to cool and fold in the stiffly whipped egg whites, beaten with a tablespoon of powdered sugar. Turn into a glass dish that has been lined with lady fingers and heap whipped cream on top. Will serve eight to ten people.

Nut Loaf—Anyone having a lunch to put up will readily appreciate this: Three cups stale bread crumbs, one half cup chopped nut meats, 1½ cups seeded raisins, one-half teaspoon salt. Mix just moist with hot water, cover and let it stand ten minutes; add two eggs well beaten and one cup more of hot water. Turn into buttered pan. Bake 1½ hours. Serve cold.

Potato and Egg Ramekins—Fill little ramekins with mashed potatoes and dots of butter. Scallops, enough potato so that an egg may be placed in the center of each. Season and bake until egg is cooked the way you prefer.

Rice and Meat Cakes—One pint cold cooked rice, one pint finely minced cooked meat, mix together thoroughly with one-half teaspoon milk and add four tablespoons flour. Drop on hot greased griddles and cook browned sugars in order to brown both sides evenly. Serve hot, buttered and peppered.

Corn Fritters—Put one can of sweet corn into a dish, add three tablespoons of sweet milk, one, one-half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon baking powder, enough flour to make it about the thickness of pancake batter. Drop into a spider which has hot grease, fry until brown. Serve with maple syrup.

Grandmother's Apple Cake—Three cups stewed apples in two cups molasses; set aside to cool. Three cups flour, two-thirds cup butter, two cups sugar, half cup raisins, Add eight teaspoons water, one level teaspoon soda, dissolved in water, three eggs, spices to taste. This cake will keep for weeks.

Potato Custard Pie—One pint mashed potatoes, two cups sugar, three-fourths cup butter or lard, four eggs; flavor with nutmeg, thin with milk and bake.

Rice Pie—Line deep pie pan with a rich crust. Boil half cup rice in half pint milk and water until soft and rub through a sieve. Add half pint milk, three beaten eggs, pinch of salt and cup of sugar. Bake twenty minutes.

Strawberry Dainties—Three egg whites, one-fourth cup strawberry juice, two tablespoons sugar, sponge cake and strawberries. Cut small rounds of cake and brown in oven. When serving, place two strawberries on top of each.

Baked Rhubarb—Two cups rhubarb, three-fourths cup sugar, one-half cup water, cut up fine with sharp knife, put it in an earthen baking dish, sprinkle sugar over it, and bake in oven until tender.

A word to the wise—to those who advertise. Use want ads every day; our word for it, they'll surely pay.

HEALTH TALKS

ONCE AND FOR ALL, MINERAL OIL

How many scores of names there may be for different kinds of liquid petroleum we haven't the slightest conception, but there must be as many as there are wholesale drug houses at least. Possibly there may be slight differences in its weight, freedom from taste, odor, etc. But practically it is a negligible difference.

Two more common names are liquid petroleum, purified petroleum, mineral oil, "Russian oil" or paraffin oil.

So long as there is no unpleasant taste, and no aftertaste, the preparation is good enough, what ever name it bears.

Mineral oil is called an "intestinal lubricant," and appears to serve such purpose. It is unlike castor oil, olive oil, butter and other things used for laxative effect in that it is never absorbed. It lubricates, that is all.

Being tasteless, it is not difficult to take—like water. The dose for an adult is, say, a tablespoonful several times a day for a young child, a teaspoonful is sufficient. Being only a lubricant, the dose must be repeated frequently.

An automobile driver feeds oil to his engine continuously. Better not mix oil with meals, however. It will do as well, or better, an hour or two from mealtime. Of any kind puts a sudden quietus upon the secretion of gastric juice and naturally that doesn't hasten digestion.

Particularly appropriate is mineral oil as a remedy in the vast majority of cases of intestinal stasis, constipation, due to kinks, sagging or "ptosis" as doctors say, weakened abdominal and intestinal musculature.

Now, mineral oil is not a laxative with corsets instead of breathing and exercise. These are the very cases of constiveness which are only aggravated by physics.

Now, mineral oil has never cured anything, in our opinion. It is a harmless remedy, and a very grateful thing to use in lieu of the injurious liver pills, B. B. salts, castor oil, calomel and "herbs" so commonly resorted to when intestinal activity is inadequate. To take a powerful laxative, even if it is obtained from "pure vegetable" or "herb" sources, just to relieve food stasis or constipation, is to store up worse trouble than the constipation itself will produce. Mineral oil will obviate the need of such drugs, and remarkable though it seems, it never does any harm. Some authorities enthusiastically aver that mineral oil also carries from the body a considerable toxic material, but this idea, we think, is not of any weight, unless you take, say a couple of quarts of the oil at a dose.

Eighteen and Twenty-Five Years Old. When eighteen years old, on the right side I had a wisdom tooth pulled and when twenty-five years on the left side I had another pulled. Now the dentist wants me to believe I am cutting still a third—is that possible?

"Answer—Well, 47 per cent of us fall out from one to all four third molars. Perhaps you belong to the upper 53 per cent, the superman family. You are not quite immune until you get to be about thirty years old on both sides.

The Most Satisfactory Truss. Please advise me where I can obtain the most satisfactory truss for my hernia.

"Answer—From any of a hundred different manufacturers. But an anatomical knowledge is necessary in fitting a truss, and your family doctor has the knowledge. Leave it to him to determine where and what sort of support is required for your particular case. He won't apply a truss on a tumor, for instance, nor on a hydrocele.

MORE WAYS OF REDUCING THE HIGH COST OF LIVING

Written for the Gazette by Nellie Maxwell of the Department of Farm-Horticulture of the University of Wisconsin.

DIFFERENT EGG DISHES. When eggs are plentiful is the time for us to revel in the dishes which we have devised for families because of scarcity and high price. Omelets, salad dressings, sponge cakes and angel foods can now be served without any qualms of conscience. A most delicious dessert, that the whole family may eat and enjoy is—

Rice Pudding—Boil a cupful of rice in a double boiler with a pint of boiling water until dry. Add a quart of rich milk, and cook until it is well absorbed. Stir in the yolks of three eggs well beaten, and add six tablespoonsful of sugar with the rind of a lemon grated. Cook ten minutes and cover the rice placed in a baking dish with the whites of the eggs beaten stiff and mixed with six tablespoonsful of sugar and the juice of the lemon. Brown in the oven. Serve cold or hot.

White Layer Cake—Soften a half cupful of butter, and one and a half cupfuls of sugar, a half cup of sweet milk, and one egg. Beat thoroughly, then add a half cup of sifted flour, a teaspoonful of baking powder, sifted with it. Mix well together, giving the mixture a good stirring, then fold in the well beaten whites of eight eggs. Bake in a buttered pan, greased, for a cake, so that with two kinds of filling and flavoring, one will have two lovely cakes.

Roll Jelly Cake—Beat three eggs light, then add a cupful of sugar, two tablespoonsful of cold water, and a pinch of salt, and fold in gradually a cupful of flour that has been sifted with two tablespoonsful of baking powder. Bake in a good sized dripping pan well greased. Turn out on a towel wrung out of cold water. Spread with jelly and roll up at once while warm. Sprinkle with powdered sugar.

Sponge Pudding—Mix together a third cup of flour with a cupful of milk. Set into boiling water and cook until thick. Cool and add a half cupful of butter and the yolks of three eggs well beaten, and a fourth of a cup of sugar. Cut and fold in the beaten whites, flavor to taste, put in a buttered baking dish, set in a pan of water, and bake 20 minutes. Serve with a sauce made as follows: Soften two tablespoonsful of butter, add a cupful of powdered sugar, a teaspoonful of vanilla and a half cup of whipped cream. Serve at once.

Spring Cake—Beat the yolks of six eggs until thick and lemon-colored, add a cupful of sugar gradually, beating all the time. Add a tablespoonful of lemon juice, the grated rind of a lemon, and the whites of the eggs beaten stiff. When they are partially mixed with the yolks add a cup of flour and a pinch of salt, sifted together. Bake in an unbuttered pan at once.

THE GAZETTE'S MOTORIST PROBLEM DEPARTMENT

(Published Saturdays.)

Motoring Department, The Gazette.—The float in the carburetor of my car seems to leak. It is metal and seems to be better than the one I have now. I am told that I need a new one. Why can't one have one better?

Motoring Department, The Gazette.—One of the coils on my battery box buzzer is the time I have looked for a short circuit, but I am not able to find it. What do you suggest is the trouble?

Motoring Department, The Gazette.—Will you please state in your auto column what condition takes place when the motor is said to be locked? What causes it and what is the remedy?

Motoring Department, The Gazette.—As I have my advantage in heating the carburetor, I believe the air from the motor would also be well. What do you think about a jacketed carburetor? B. M. I have an advantage in heating the carburetor in the application of heat to the parts that require it. When the gasoline is sprayed out of the nozzle and it will strike the cold walls of the mixing chamber and condense. Eventually enough heat from there to create a mixture that would be too rich to ignite properly. By heating the mixing chamber the condensation at this point is prevented somewhat, as the particles of gasoline when they strike the warm tube vaporize, causing the motor to run steadily and effectively. A surplus in gasoline. A hot air pipe is also very good. In fact, in some instances it is sufficient without the hot-water jacket.

Motoring Department, The Gazette.—My car has a terrific sort of gran in the rear axle. I have adjusted the driving pinion in every way and have taken apart my axle, which is a semi-floating one, and have dusted the bearings and everything else which I thought might be causing this noise, but have been unsuccessful. I have been in this condition, and would greatly appreciate an expression of your opinion on this matter.

Motoring Department, The Gazette.—A defective bearing support will cause the union shaft would cause this trouble. Likewise, if you mesh too closely the two lower gears, a disagreeable noise will result. After two years of this type have been run a considerable length of time it is not advisable to attempt to adjust them too closely. They wear themselves in such a manner that if meshed too closely to Motoring Department, The Gazette.—I have an auto, bought nearly two years ago. It runs good, but in starting the clutch gear. I know of others that have the same experience. When I bought it, it had a B-D carburetor. About six weeks ago, had put on a Schebler Model 10 carburetor, but that does not gether they will ride on high spots, caused by the previous wear. More than likely, you will find a badly worn bearing which is causing the trouble. Very often it is necessary to remove a bearing and wash it in gasoline in order to detect its damaged condition. A casual inspection of a bearing when covered with grease will not always reveal its true condition.

HELPFUL HINTS.

Hot water should never be used for washing a car. It has a deteriorating effect on the varnish of a well finished body. A single application of hot water and soap will remove the luster. Lukewarm water will not harm.

Among the necessities when touring should be a supply of five valves and a single valve. A valve in a valve will cause as much delay as a blowout. A good valve is often hard to obtain. A mixture of lubricated oil and turpentine is sometimes recommended for cleaning leather.

The difference between the tire mileage of different drivers depends quite largely upon the care used in driving. A small sharp cornered stone will often make a sharp turn in the road. A broken bottle will sometimes cut a large hole. Tire wear also increases in a fourfold ratio compared with speed. Almost any good make of tire will run 5,000 miles if used carefully.

Wool alcohol applied with a sponge or cloth is one of the best methods of cleaning either cloth or leather upholstery. A mixture of linseed oil and turpentine is sometimes recommended for cleaning leather.

Many cars have the muffler located near the center of the car directly under the body. Quite often the exhaust will set up a disagreeable rumbling, especially noticeable and annoying when riding with top up. This rumbling may be overcome by leading a pipe of flexible metal hose from the muffler to the rear of the car.

Motoring Department, The Gazette.—Why is it that some motor car builders use aluminum crank cases and others use cast iron crank cases. Is there any great difference in cost or strength? D. H. Aluminum is used on account of its lightness. Cast iron is much cheaper, but weighs considerably more. Aluminum is about the same strength as cast iron, but is about one-third lighter.

Motoring Department, The Gazette.—Would it cause any extra wear on the differential if in turning sharp corners one did not throw out the clutch? Or is it best to throw out the clutch and release to second speed? G. G. To throw out clutch in turning corners does not affect the differential. It is designed to care for such requirements. To disengage clutch in turning sharp corners is good practice, but this is done more to relieve straight line shafts. Sharp corners should be taken at reduced speed. To do this is of no necessity, and change to a lower gear before accelerating.

EMERALD HUED MOTOR COATS WITH A VEIL

Stunning Effects for Motoring Described by Margaret Mason.—Sell Your Car and Buy a Boat.

"I'm glad that Enrich liquid's green. That saves the price of gasoline. 'Twill go to swell, said Blanche Marie. With my new motor coat, you see."

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

New York, May 19.—A lady enveloped in an emerald hued motor coat of duvelyn with an emerald satin jockey's cap and a floating length on two of emerald chiffon veil isn't as green as she looks. She is decidedly smart according to the latest thing in motor modes.

The coats for motor wear are legion this season and the time is, fortunately, long since past when the lovely motor maid had to disguise herself like a gargoyle in order to dress the part.

The duvelyn coats are of course the richest, and it takes the richest to buy them. They come in wonderfully brilliant shades of rose, raspberry, emerald, cobalt and sapphire blue.

Blither in the long, loose, flaring models or the belted-in effects they are becoming to all eyes but they become yours only for several figures. Other soft woolen materials that have the general effect of the duvelyn in a speeding motor as on a galloping horse make up equally stunning and less costly togs.

One of gold color is cut a la militaire, with capacious buttoned hip pockets and strap of buttoned breast pockets. It has a wide buttoned belt, raglan sleeves and a wide rolling collar that can be worn opened or turned up snug and close and tight, to fasten with a disk of jade the size of a silver dollar. This coat is lined throughout with the same shade of gold satin.

Many of the coats, however, like many people, hide a gay and frivolous interior under a sedate and diabolical exterior. Slate colored, plainly tailored coats adorned solely with self-torn buttons are lined with exotic crepe and silks of ultra futuristic designs, as are most of the other tans and fawns.

Buttons galore you will find on all of them and a Jersey model that is shown in serge, shepherd plaid wool, or natural pongee, is buttoned straight down the front from the top of the choker collar to the bottom of the hem and shows further button symptoms on the deep cuffs, big slash hip pockets and the belt which only confines the front, the back being left loose and flaring.

The buttons on the serge models, which come in black, wine and navy, are white bone disks. Those on the shepherd plaid are black bone, and the pongee has bullet buttons of the pongee tone.

Besides her emerald coat, Blanche Marie, just from Paris, brought over a chic loose coat of beige Jersey cloth around its flaring hem and deep ruffled cape collar of the Jersey lined taffeta hanging down behind.

For wear with this she has an ideal motor hat made of two-inch beige grosgrain ribbon sewed together in four rows from the little round center of the crown. The tiny roll brim is the ribbon doubled and a smart pleated cockade of the ribbon adorns one side.

Not only for motoring is this little crush hat charming as well as practical, but for all forms of travel, as it can be rolled up in a wad with the utmost abandon and tucked in the oddest of odd corners when not desirable and tucked on the head at the oddest of odd angles.

All shades of green and yellow and crosses of the two like ginger chartrreuse and citron are chosen colors of the racy racing motor maids this year, and many a speed sister is all the mustard in a piquant automobile coat of the same seasoning and seasonable shade.

Fortunately for the 'speedometer these are all fast colors.

MAY ADOPT A STANDARD COLOR TO OFFSET SHORTAGE OF DYES IN THIS COUNTRY.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE] Chicago, Ill., May 20.—Steps toward adopting standard colors are to be taken by American garment manufacturers to offset the dye shortage caused by the war in Europe, at the annual meeting of the American Garment Manufacturers' Association which will open here tomorrow. Representatives of three hundred firms are here for the meeting.

The dye question will be the most important to come before the meeting, although the shortage of raw materials also will be discussed.

Gairbairn Miller, Jr., of Milwaukee, Wis., is president of the association. Red Cross reports from Canada say thousands of soldiers in Europe have been poisoned by the inferior dye-manufacturers have been compelled to use in clothing made for the troops.

ALL SOCIAL BARRIERS ARE LEVELLED BY WAR THROUGHOUT ENGLAND.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

London, May 20.—How completely the war is leveling all social barriers in England was illustrated again at the last of the series of three parties given by the king and queen at Buckingham Palace for wounded sailors and soldiers. The function was attended by upwards of 800 men, who were afterwards entertained at a variety show provided by stars of the London stage in the riding school of the royal mews.

Practically all of the members of the royal family excepting the king and queen helped wait on the guests at the tea party. Among the royal waitresses who served and chatted with the guests, taking great interest in their individual stories of adventure at the front or on sea, were the king's daughter, Princess Mary; the Princess Royal, the Princess Christian, the Princesses Maude, the Princess Victoria, Princess Arthur of Connaught and the Duchess of Teck.

The king and queen spent two hours moving among their guests and making solicitous inquiries, the sovereign evincing special interest in clearing up particular points as to charges and counter-charges in battles that are now historic and reflecting the thorough manner in which he had familiarized himself with the strategy of the war. Queen Alexandra, widow of the late King Edward VII., seemed everywhere in evidence and an object of particular affection.

Addressing the bluff-looking soldier on attempting to rise to greet him, the king said: "Sit down, my good fellow; you've made your stand for us and in the very best way." Looking toward the viands, the king added: "But mind you stoke up well."

It was an afternoon of gaiety, of unrestrained laughter and of good fellowship from which all formality was banished and in which the king and queen and Queen Alexandra joined unrestrainedly.

FRENCH AIRMAN LOOPS THE LOOP TO ESCAPE A GERMAN AIR OFFICER.

Paris, May 20.—No stranger tale of escape from captivity has perhaps ever been told in the annals of any war than that narrated by Major de V., a French aviator who was recently captured behind German lines when a dense fog caused him to lose his bearings. CHIPPING SPARROW

Spizella passerina

Length, about five and one-fourth inches. Distinguished by the chestnut crown, black line through eye, and black bill.

Range: Breeds throughout the United States, south to Nicaragua, and north to southern Canada; winters in the southern United States and southward.

Habits and economic status: The chipping sparrow is very friendly and domestic, and often builds its nest in gardens and orchards or in the shrubbery close to dwellings. Its gentle and confiding ways endear it to all bird lovers. It is one of the most insectivorous of all the sparrows. Its diet consists of about 42 per cent of insects and spiders and 58 per cent of vegetable matter. The animal food consists largely of caterpillars, of which it feeds a great many to its young. Besides these, it eats beetles, including many weevils, of which one stomach contained 30. It also eats ants, wasps, and bugs. Among the latter are plant lice and black olive scales. The vegetable food is practically all weed seed. A nest with four young of this species was watched at different hours on four days. In the seven hours of observation 119 feedings were noted, or an average of 17 feedings per hour, or four and one-fourth feedings per hour to each nestling. This would give for a day of 14 hours at least 238 insects eaten by the brood.

Mary Vertrees had never heard anything quite like the drawing, gentle voice or the odd implication that his not noticing the motionless state of their vehicle was an "accident." At once she discovered that he was unlike any of her cursory and vague imaginings of him. And suddenly she had a glimpse of Bibbs' life and into his life. She had a queer feeling, new to her experience, of knowing him instantly. It startled her a little; she did not realize, however, that she had made no response to his apology, and they passed out of the cemetery gates, neither having spoken again.

Bibbs was so content with the silence he did not know that it was silence. The dusk, gathering in their small enclosure, was filled with a rich presence for him; and presently it was so dark that neither of the two could see the other, nor did even their garments touch. But neither had any sense of being alone. The wheels creaked steadily, rumbling presently on paved streets; there were the sounds, as from a distance, of the plod of the horses. Omissions of light came lancing into the coupe, and passed, leaving greater darkness. And yet neither of these two last attendants at Jim Sheridan's funeral broke the silence.

It was Mary who perceived the strangeness of it—too late. Abruptly she realized that for an indefinite interval she had been thinking of her companion and not talking to him. "Mr. Sheridan," she began, not knowing what she was going to say, but impelled to say anything, as she realized the queerness of this drive—"Mr. Sheridan, I—"

The coupe stopped. "You, Joe," said the driver, reproachfully, and elbowed down and opened the door.

"What's the trouble?" Bibbs inquired.

"Lady said stop at first house north of Mr. Sheridan's, sir."

Mary was incredulous; she felt that it couldn't be true and that it mustn't be true that they had driven all the way without speaking.

Bibbs descended to the curb. "Why, yes," he said. "You seem to be right." And while he stood staring at the dimly illuminated front windows of Mr. Vertrees' house Mary got out, unassisted.

"Let me help you," said Bibbs, stepping toward her mechanically; and she was several feet from the coupe when he spoke.

"Oh, no," she murmured. "I think I can—." She meant that she could get out of the coupe without help, but, perceiving that she had already accomplished this feat, she decided not to complete the sentence.

"You, Joe," cried the driver, angrily, climbing to his box. And he rumbled away at his team's best pace—a snail's. "Thank you for bringing me home, Mr. Sheridan," said Mary, stiffly. She did not offer her hand. "Good night."

"Good night," Bibbs said in response, and, turning with her, walked beside her to the door. Mary made that a short walk; she almost ran. Realization of the queerness of their drive was growing upon her, beginning to shock her; she stepped aside from the light that fell through the glass panels of the door and withheld her hand as it touched the old-fashioned bell handle.

"I'm quite safe, thank you," she said, with a little emphasis. "Good night."

"Good night," said Bibbs, and went obediently. When he reached the street he looked back, but she had vanished within the house.

Moving slowly away, he caromed against two people who were turning out from the pavement to cross the street. They were Roscoe and his wife.

"Where are your eyes, Bibbs?" demanded Roscoe. "Sleep-walking, as usual?"

But Bibbs took the wanderer by the arm. "Come over to our house for a little while, Bibbs," she urged. "I want to—"

"No, I'd better—"

He yielded, and when they were in the house she repeated herself with real feeling: "All worn out! Well, if anybody is, you are, Bibbs! And I don't wonder; you've done every bit of the work of it. You mustn't get down sick again. I'm going to make you take a little brandy."

He let her have her own way, following her into the dining room, and was grateful when she brought him a tiny glass filled from one of the decanters on the sideboard. Roscoe gloomily poured for himself a much heavier libation in a larger glass; and the two men sat, while Bibbs leaned against the sideboard, reviewing the episodes of the day and recalling the names of the donors of flowers and wreaths. She pressed Bibbs to remain longer when he rose to go, and then, as he persisted, she went with him to the front door. He opened it, and she said:

"Bibbs, you were coming out of the Vertrees' house when we met you. How did you happen to be there?"

"I had only been to the door," he said. "Good night, Sibyl."

"Wait," she insisted. "We saw you coming out."

"I wasn't," he explained. "I'd just brought Miss Vertrees home."

"What?" she cried.

"Yes," he said, and stepped out upon the porch. "That was it. Good night, Sibyl."

"Wait!" she said, following him across the threshold. "How did that happen? I thought you were going to wait while those men filled the—the—"

She paused, but moved nearer him insistently.

"I did wait," Miss Vertrees was there," he said, reluctantly. "She had walked away for a while and didn't notice that the carriages were leaving. When she came back the coupe waiting for me was the only one left."

Sibyl regarded him with dilating eyes. She spoke with a slow breathlessness. "And she drove home from Jim's funeral—with you?"

Without warning she burst into laughter, clapped her hand ineffectually over her mouth, and ran back up-rampantly into the house, hurling the door shut behind her.

CHAPTER XII.

Bibbs went home pondering. He did not understand why Sibyl had laughed. At home, uncles, aunts and cousins from out of town were wandering about the house, several mournfully admiring the "Bay of Naples," and others occupied with the Moor and the plumbing, while they waited for trains. Edith and her mother had retired to some upper fastness, but Bibbs interviewed Jackson and had the various groups of relatives summoned to the dining room for food. One great-uncle, old Gideon Sheridan from Booneville, could not be found, and Bibbs went in search of him. He ransacked the house, discovering the missing antique at last by accident. Passing his father's closed door on tiptoes, Bibbs heard a murmurous sound, and paused to listen. The sound proved to be a quivering and rickety voice, monotonously bleating:

"The Lo-ord givuth and the Lo-ord takuth away! We got to remember that: we got to remember that! I'm a-gittin' along, James; I'm a-gittin' along, and I've seen a-many of 'em go—two daughters and a son the Lord gave me, and he's taken all away. For the Lo-ord givuth and the Lo-ord takuth away! Remember the words of Biddad the Shuhite, James. Biddad the Shuhite says, 'He shall have neither son nor nephew among his people, nor any remaining in his dwellings.' Biddad the Shuhite—"

Bibbs opened the door softly. His father was lying on the bed, in his underclothes, face downward, and Uncle Gideon sat near by, swinging backward and forward in a rocking chair, stroking his long, white beard and gazing at the ceiling as he talked. Bibbs beckoned him urgently, but Uncle Gideon paid no attention.

"Biddad the Shuhite spoke and he says, 'If thy children have sinned against him and he have cast them away—'"

There was a muffled explosion beneath the floor, and the windows rattled. The figure lying face downward on the bed did not move, but Uncle Gideon leaped from his chair. "My God!" he cried. "What's that?"

There came a second explosion, and Uncle Gideon ran out into the hall. Bibbs went to the head of the great staircase, and, looking down, discovered the source of the disturbance. Gideon's grandson, a boy of fourteen, had brought his camera to the funeral and was taking "flashlights" of the Moor. Uncle Gideon, reassured by Bibbs' explanation, would have returned to finish his quotation from Biddad the Shuhite, but Bibbs detained him, and after a little argument persuaded him to descend to the dining room, whether Bibbs followed, after closing the door of his father's room.

He kept his eyes on Gideon after dinner, diplomatically preventing several attempts on the part of that comforter to reascend the stairs; and it was a relief to Bibbs when George announced that an automobile was waiting to convey the ancient man and his grandson to their train. They were the last to leave, and when they had gone Bibbs went sighing to his own room.

He stretched himself wearily upon the bed, but presently rose, went to the window, and looked for a long time at the darkened house where Mary Vertrees lived. Then he opened his trunk, filled therefrom a small notebook half filled with fragmentary scribbles, and began to write:

"My God!" He cried, "What's That?"

Laughter after a funeral. In this reaction people will laugh at anything and at nothing. The band plays a dirge on the way to the cemetery, but when it turns back, and the mourning carriages are out of hearing, it strikes up "Dark Town Is Out To-Night." That is natural, but there are women whose laughter is like the whirling of whips.

Beauty is not out of place among grave-stones. It is not out of place anywhere. But a woman who has been betrothed to a man would not look beautiful at his funeral. A woman might look beautiful, though, at the funeral of a man whom she had known and liked. And in that case, too, she would probably not want to talk if she drove home from the cemetery with his brother; nor would she want the brother to talk. Nevertheless, too much silence is open to suspicion. It may be reticence, or it may be a vacuum. It may be dignity, or it may be false teeth.

Silence can be golden? Yes. But perhaps if a woman of the world should find herself by accident sitting beside a man for the length of time it must necessarily take two slow old horses to jog three miles, she might expect that man to say something of some sort. If he did not even try, but sat every step of the way as dumb as a frozen fish, she might think him a frozen fish. And she might be right. She might be right if she thought him about as pleasant a companion as Biddad the Shuhite!

Bibbs closed his notebook, replacing it in his trunk. Then, after a period of melancholy contemplation, he undressed, put on a dressing gown and slippers, and went softly out into the hall—to his father's door. Upon the floor was a tray which Bibbs had sent George, earlier in the evening, to place upon a table in Sheridan's room—but the food was untouched. Bibbs stood listening outside the door for several minutes. There came no sound from within, and he went back to his own room and to bed.

In the morning he woke to a state of being hitherto unknown in his experience. Sometimes in the process of waking there is a little pause—sleep has gone, but coherent thought has not begun. It is the moment, as we say, before we "remember;" and for the first time in Bibbs' life it came to him bringing a vague happiness.

However, it was a brief visitation and was gone before he had finished dressing. It left a little trail, the pleased recollection of it and the puzzle of it, which remained unsolved. And, in fact, waking happily in the morning is not usually the result of a drive home from a funeral. No wonder the sequence evaded Bibbs Sheridan!

His father had gone when he came downstairs. "Went on down to 's office, jes' same," Jackson informed him. "Came sat breakfast table, all by 'meself; eat nothin'." George bring nice breakfast, but he didn't eat a thing. Yessuh, went on downtown, jes' same he yooosta do. Yessuh, I reckon putty much 'ev'rythin' goin' on same as it yooosta do."

It struck Bibbs that Jackson was right. The day passed as other days had passed. Mrs. Sheridan and Edith were in black, and Mrs. Sheridan cried a little, now and then, but no other external difference was to be seen. Bibbs went for his drive, and his mother went with him, as she sometimes did when the weather was pleasant. Altogether, the usualness of things was rather startling to Bibbs.

During the drive Mrs. Sheridan talked fragmentarily of Jim's childhood. "You were too little. He was always a good boy, just like that. And he'd save whatever papa gave him, and put it in the bank. I reckon it'll just about kill your father to put some-body in his place as president of the Realty company. Bibbs, I know he can't move Roscoe over; he told me last week he'd already put as much on Roscoe as any one man could handle and not go crazy. Oh, it's a pity—"

She stopped to wipe her eyes. "It's a pity you didn't run more with Jim, Bibbs, and kind of pick up his ways. Think what it'd meant to papa now! You never did run with either Roscoe or Jim any, even before you got sick. Of course you were younger; but it always did seem queer—and you three bein' brothers like that. I don't believe I ever saw you and Jim sit down together for a good talk in my life."

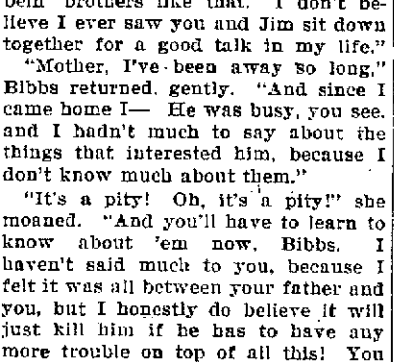

"Mother, I've been away so long," Bibbs returned, gently. "And since I came home I— He was busy, you see, and I hadn't much to say about the things that interested him, because I don't know much about them."

"It's a pity! Oh, it's a pity!" she moaned. "And you'll have to learn to know about 'em now. Bibbs, I haven't said much to you, because I felt it was all between your father and you, but I honestly do believe it will just kill him if he has to have any more trouble on top of all this! You mustn't let him, Bibbs—you mustn't! You don't know how he's grieved over you, and now he can't stand any more—he just can't! Whatever he says for you to do, you do it. Bibbs, you do it! I want you to promise me you will."

"I would if I could," he said, sorrowfully.

"No, no! Why can't you?" she cried, clutching his arm. "He wants you to go back to the machine shop and all on earth he asks is for you to go back in a cheerful spirit, so it won't hurt you! That's all he asks. Look, Bibbs, we're gettin' back near home, but before we get there I want you to promise me that you'll do what he asks you to. Promise me!"

A father had decided that he must administer a stern lecture to his youthful son.

Father spoke judiciously, but severely; he recounted the boy's misdeeds, and duly explained the whys and wherefores of his solemn rebuke, his wife the while standing by, duly impressed.

Finally, when the father ceased for breath and incidentally to hear the culprit's acknowledgment of error, the boy, his face beaming with admiration, turned to his mother and said:

"Mother, isn't dad interesting?"

"And what did you do, Hulda?" asked in some anxiety, although trusting that it had been the right thing.

"Why," said Hulda, "I made him swallow a buttonhole right away!"

STRUCK OUT ALONE AT 13

Courteous Manners and Grit Have Brought Success to His Every Venture.

By Fred C. Shassey.

It was an honorable business, that of working out sugar, tea and coffee in a grocery store, but he had a larger vision. He was picked in, after the American fashion, and made good.

At the age of 13, when the serious business of life had not dawned on the person of most young men, Jeffris found it necessary to strike out for himself. He had a little money—a money he had won in the art of self-advertisement.

Thoughts Turn to Law. Jeffris never had serious intentions of becoming an expert grocerman; he sold the store. At the age of 16, he was driving a mule, buying brick, plastering walls and hanging doors for his father, who was a builder. In his son, Malcolm, he thought he had a useful apprentice. But Jeffris wasn't cut out for that role.

But Jeffris wasn't cut out for that role.

Helped Establish Church. His suggestion led to the establishment of a church. It wasn't any particular kind of church, just a place of worship reaching out to all denominations. Jeffris, in those days, didn't quibble about details, and the church membership included about every person in the place.

and about sundown, when clouds gathered on Main street, and they stepped a lonely light along the roadside. He turned to books—his best and most interesting companions.

It was especially lonely out there on Sunday, and Jeffris decided that something would have to be done to lend color to the hum drum of things. That something was a meeting in the railway station of the young people at which a Sunday school class was organized. The class met weekly, and when one of the young girls members died, Jeffris was asked to officiate at the funeral. This duty he performed. Afterward he told his fellow townsmen that in any well regulated community there ought to be a church, so that the pastor might officiate at funerals and weddings. He was willing, if called upon, to officiate at the former, but he did not feel equal to the latter responsibility.

VISION IS 'NEVER CLOUDED'

mainly. He was the kind of a lad who never failed to show respect to age. He is described as the kind of a youngster who helps an elderly woman cross the street, the kind of a boy who offers his cap in an elevator.

Early in life Mr. Jeffris learned to concentrate, to analyze, to see things as they are, to study, to fight. Intellectually he is one of the "big" men of Wisconsin, profoundly thoughtful, fearless, a powerful orator and genuinely American. He is not just plain politician, like so many in fact, this is the first time in his busy career that he has appeared before the public as candidate for office. And he is a candidate because the republican state convention called upon him.

Instinctively one feels that here is a man who would be steady and thoughtful in any crisis. And there is something about him which makes one feel that he isn't the sort to get rough with unless one is prepared for a stiff argument.

Wants Absolute Neutrality. Mr. Jeffris believes the question of foreign policy, which reaches out to a strong government at home, absolute neutrality and preparedness is the great thought about which the campaign will be waged. He wants peace, a meeting with the world's best, a meeting with the world's best, a meeting with the world's best.

Dust Won't Cloud Vision. Attempts will be made—because it is the political way—to inject into the campaign issues and arguments of national defense. Certain it is, however, Mr. Jeffris will not permit political dust to cloud his vision. He will go straight ahead and he will be interesting and interesting to every subject every minute of the campaign.

Europe is on fire. There is no telling where the blaze may strike forth in the next part of the world. Peace, peace, peace. And let us prepare under an administration that knows how.

And when Mr. Jeffris comes you will find him discussing the issues of today, you will find him discussing the issues of today, you will find him discussing the issues of today.

Side Lights on the Circus Business

By D. W. WATT

Former Manager Burr Robbins and Later Treasurer of Adam Forepaugh Circuses.

At the evening performance of the Coop & Lent circus I met the manager, W. T. Harright, at the main entrance of the show, and he said to me: "Dave, Father came on to the show this afternoon and I want you to meet him, for he will enjoy having a visit with you as he is new in the business."

When I shook hands with Harright, Sr., he said to him: "You certainly look the part of a show man who has been in the business for some time." He was seated in a large easy chair at the main entrance, and being a large man, he put me in mind of my old employer, Adam Forepaugh, who was always seated in what we called the "lookout chair," at the main entrance of the show. Mr. Harright said:

"I would like to have a visit with you, Mr. Watt, as I am financially interested in the show of which my son is the manager. To commence with, I would like to know what you think of the show and the general make-up."

"Well," I said, "my idea would be that the show, after pruning it down some, which means to get rid of the expenses without hurting the standard of the show, and still give the public as much or more for their money, would be benefited. I would have some splendid acts with the show, some of which are high class and should be made features of it, and by doing this you could get along with a smaller show and still give the public a first class show."

"That makes me think," said the old gentleman, "that my son's judgment is pretty good for a man new in the business. I have heard that several of the people their two weeks' notice, which means that their services will be dispensed with after two weeks, and then he will pick out a few of the best, which could be dispensed with. They will be the only acts in the rings at a time."

By doing this several of the people could be let out, which not only means their salaries, but their transportation and hotel bills as well. While the show was a high class one, there were several people doing the same acts at the same time, which could be dispensed with and the best ones made features of it. The show was too expensive for one practically new in the business and without a reputation.

Mr. Harright, Sr., told me that he expected to spend most of the summer with the show, as his business at home did not require his attention.

On Saturday last, accompanied by a friend, we motored to Beloit to take a look at the Gollmar Brothers' show, and found what looked to be a brand new show. The four brothers were all there and everything from the wagons to the train were painted up as though they were just out of the shop. All the canvas was new, and yet the show had encountered more than its share of bad weather since opening the week before. The show has several new features this year, in the way of aerial acts, and a large number of performing lions, which is one of the best on the road. The entire den is handled by a lady. While there were two or three acts which indicated that they had been performed only a few times and did not run as smoothly as they will later, it was the highest class show in my estimation that the Gollmars have ever put on the road. The afternoon performance had scarcely got well under way when it commenced to rain, and the rain did not let up for a minute. Shortly after the afternoon performance was over, and it looked as if there was no chance for the rain to let up, the lot being soft, it was decided not to give an evening performance, and the work loading the trains.

The next morning bright and early Murray was one of the busiest men in Jamesville, looking after his work and contacting the town for the show. While the Barnes show is not well known in this part of the country, it is the finest of its kind in the world, as well as the largest. Murray Pennock says it has more camels than all other shows combined, and every one does an act of some kind.

W. K. Peck, the general agent, who has for some time made his headquarters in Chicago for the Barnes show, will be in this part of the country for several weeks. Will Peck and I traveled together for several years with the Forepaugh show. In fact, we were both there all through the '80's, and I don't think Will has lost a season in the business for thirty-five years.

Everyday Wisdom

By DON HEROLD

A doughnut gun for shooting holes in doughnuts is a recent invention of a munition manufacturer which will greatly lighten the work of woman.

"Early to bed and early to rise" is an agricultural epigram. It need not apply to any district which has electric lights. If the farmer had as lights all over his farm he could get up when he pleased in the morning and stay up and plough as late as he pleased at night. Two of the most natural things in the world are to stay up late and to get up late. Going to bed early and getting up early are as abnormal and unnatural as cramping the feet of Chinese women. We are in favor of abolishing the "Early to bed and early to rise" epigram in the cities.

A Seven-Room Bungalow

In this arrangement of exterior and plan it is possible to build this seven-room bungalow at a very low cost, by virtue of the short studding that is required in the construction of the walls and by the minimum roof area made possible by giving the roof a low pitch; the very features that bring about the effect of a bungalow.

The living quarters, that is to say, the kitchen, dining room and living room, occupy the front part on the plan and the sleeping quarters are entered through a hall off the rear of the living room, off of which four bedrooms are grouped. A stairway also ascends from this hall to storage space under the roof. The basement occupies a part of the area of the house and is reached from a stairway off of the kitchen. The cost of this house should not exceed $3600, as it would be built in a locality suitable for such a design.

BOOSTING IS NEEDED FOR THE FIRST GAME

Hoping For Good Weather For Cardinals and Madison Team to Start Baseball Season Here.

All that is needed for a ball game Sunday afternoon between the Janesville Cardinals and the Madison city champions is good weather and as many fans as can pack into the grandstand and bleachers at the Association Park diamonds. And the weather men promise to be very favorable and allow the opening game to be played.

The Cardinals should obtain vengeance for the trimming that the Madison Fauersbach gave them on a lone score, here last year. The Cardinals this year looks fifty per cent stronger on paper, than last season. On the other hand the Chicago White Sox look like champions on paper but at their present pace, it is extremely doubtful if they could beat the Cardinals of last year.

Fleming and English will be the pitchers. Everyone hopes to see Fleming put through the game with a victory under his belt, to give him necessary confidence since his graduation in better baseball. However, the fans want to see what English, former Federal league hurler, can do for they expect to see some nifty hurling from him. Cusack, a former National league umpire, will officiate at the game, and it is sincerely hoped that Cusack will be able to tell a foul ball from a fair one which is a notable game with a Madison team, a few seasons back.

Following the game with Madison, the Cardinals have scheduled two fast Chicago teams to play on Sunday. The crack Chicago Greys will be here a week from Sunday and a week after this game the famous Jake Stahls will be in for a trimming at the hands of the Cardinals. The first game to be played with Beloit will be on July fourth at Beloit, as the contract for this game was signed this week, since objections were offered to the game being played here.

A big attendance is expected for tomorrow's game for the turnout will go a long way in deciding what players will be retained and if better men will be obtained for the Chicago games. The band will be on hand to lend their inspiration and it is hoped the admissions will total over a thousand.

AMATEUR BOXING SHOW IS PLANNED FOR INDIANAPOLIS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Indianapolis, May 20.—The Indianapolis Amateur Athletic Federation is planning an amateur boxing show on May 29, the night preceding the Indianapolis Sweepstakes race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. Two professional shows have been proposed for the night preceding the big motor car race, but as there has been considerable dissension among the professional promoters, the amateurs believe no professional show will be staged. Amateur boxing was given by the federation last fall and while it did not pay expenses, the sport was considered excellent.

TROTS MILE IN 2:17 FOR SPRING RECORD

Bueby, Rockford, Ill., Horse, Driven by F. J. Nohlschek, Beats All Training Track Time.

A record that will cause every horseman throughout the length and breadth of the United States to sit up and take notice, was established at the Janesville Park association grounds Thursday afternoon when Irving Hart, a three-year-old from the T. B. Rusby string of Rockford, Ill., trotted the mile in 2:17.

Taking into consideration the condition of the track and the early date of the training season, together with the general condition of the track drivers and local horsemen who were fortunate to witness the trial, class it a stem winder. F. J. Nohlschek, who is in charge of the Bueby stables here, drove Irving Hart. A number of stopwatches were held on the horse during the trial and the time of 2:17 can be taken as authentic.

The last quarter was made in 32. The last eighth was the swiftest trotting seen on the Janesville track in several years. The distance was covered in 15 ft.

Weekly reports of trial trotting on all the big tracks of the country received in Janesville thus far this season, do not in any way compare with the time made by the Rockford horse yesterday. Even at Lexington, where the cream of speedy horseflesh under foot daily trots, the time has not been equalled this spring.

At the present time there are forty head of horses at the association stables.

OLDFIELD STILL HOLDS OUT AGAINST DEPALMA'S ENTERING.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Indianapolis, May 20.—The question of whether Ralph DePalma will drive in the annual automobile race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway on Memorial day is becoming quite an affair in gasoline circles. A host of friends of DePalma, who is one of the most popular race drivers that ever circles the brick oval here, is insisting that he be permitted to enter the contest. The Speedway management is taking a poll of all the drivers entered on the question and to be successful, DePalma must receive a unanimous vote. Barney Oldfield, who declares the Memorial day contest should be his last race, insists that only those who had filed their entrant papers on May 1 be permitted to start. Oldfield, it is understood, has said he will withdraw if any post entries are permitted.

AMATEURS RACING TODAY AT CHICAGO SPEEDWAY.

Chicago, May 20.—The program for the amateur automobile drivers' races at the Maywood speedway, May 20, includes two preliminary heats of 20 miles each and the final of thirty miles. In addition a dealer's race of five miles is on the cards and the afternoon will be opened by a polo game between the Speedway Park team and a team representing the First Cavalry, Illinois National Guard.

GETTING READY FOR GREAT RACE AT INDIANAPOLIS MAY 30

With the sixth annual international sweepstakes race on the Indianapolis Motor Speedway only a few weeks off, activities have assumed a tenseness at the Hoosier track. Dario Resta, speedway champion of the 1915 season, has entered with a Peugeot car. Eddie O'Donnell, who won the Corona race in California this year, will drive a Duesenberg. Tom Rooney, a new man in speedway races, will drive the car built for and partially by the late Bob Burman, who was killed some weeks ago at the Corona race.

Sport Snap Shots MORRIS MILLER

The Brooklyn Robins are tough birds this season. They appear to be sterner and indomitable in their determination to beat up all their little playmates in the National league. There is small doubt that Wilbert Robinson, has better combined hitting, fielding and pitching talent than any other manager, but he had that last year. The big difference is that he appears to have injected some thought germs into the members of his team. The result is that the men are playing the game instead of merely throwing and batting the ball around. Brooklyn has the weapons to capture a flag if it has the brains to use them.

Bill Friel, formerly manager of the St. Paul Saints and now an umpire in the American association, has secured judgement by default in his suit against the Saint Paul club to collect under the contract he had. This contract called for him to manage the Saints last year, but the change in ownership led to Friel's dismissal.

Jerry Downs in a recent Los Angeles-San Francisco game hit for a clean home run, but got up so much steam rounding the bases that he forgot to touch second and was called out. His run would have tied up the game that finally ended 2 to 1 against his team.

Barney Oldfield, who will compete in his last race in Chicago on June 10, is the first driver to announce his intention of leaving the track. He has secured judgement by default in his suit against the Speedway Park association, will give to the driver breaking the world's record this mark to better than 120 miles per hour on the Chicago course.

Oldfield holds the Chicago course record, having covered the two miles at an average of 111.5 miles per hour with the Christie in an exhibition just before the 1913 motor derby, and believes that with the same car, which has been rebuilt, he can crowd two miles inside the minute and shatter the world's mark of Chassagne and the English Sunbeam, which stands at 118.5 miles per hour.

Whitted, the Phillies' Outfielder, who discovered Henry Lee Meadows, Whitted met Scout Bob Connery at St. Augustine, Fla., last spring, and he remarked that there was a little fellow who wore glasses, who lived at his home at Durham, N. C., who would surely make a pitcher. Connery went down looked him over and signed him for the Cardinals, and he is now one of the best pitchers in the National league. Whitted evidently has good judgement in picking up players and when his playing days are over he ought to be given a chance to become a scout.

As Roger Bresnahan seems to be getting all the good surplus stock in the country, it would not be surprising if Tris Cobb, Tris Speaker, Benjie Kaufman and Stuffy McInnis were wearing the Toledo uniforms before the season closed.

SOX SLIP WAY DOWN IN CELLAR POSITION

Give Game Away to Mack's Midgets in Eleven Innings—Yanks and Tigers Play Sixteen Innings.

By gaining the jump on Claude Hendrix, Brooklyn beat the Cubs, 4 to 2, at Chicago Friday and hold their first position through a first inning rally that proved too big for the Chicago Nationals to overcome. Hippo Vaughn tamed the Robins thereafter, and it was only strong defensive work that halted the Cubs from copping the game from the leaders.

Two doubles, a triple and a wild heave by Salier gave Brooklyn two runs in the first, before Hendrix could be lifted from the mound. Mann opened the fourth for the Cubs with a single and Mack lifted one over the wall for a homer, scoring the Cubs' two runs. In the same inning Brooklyn counted one and cinched it in two ninth when they scored their last run.

The Cubs should have won the game. They got ten safe blows and a lot more that did not go safe, but Hendrix proved able to stop every rally with a sparkling play that kept the Bruins away from the pan. Smith pitched for Brooklyn and could consider himself lucky that he ever got away with the game.

Going Down Sox.
Down in the cellar went the slipping White Sox yesterday, when Mack's youngsters walloped them, 1 to 0, or rather the Sox handed them the game in eleven innings. If the Sox cannot play better baseball than they have exhibited on their eastern trip, last place is where they belong. Jackson got two hits, Eddie Collins one, off Bueh, and that is the total number of safe wallops obtained by the white hoed cellar bums. The Sox had a chance of chances to score, but they couldn't even take the same when Mack's midgets booted the ball over the diamond. Eddie Cicotte pitched great ball for the Sox, but no pitcher could win a game without he is backed up with a few hits. Strunk scored the winning run in the eleventh when Pick, the boy who hopes to make Philadelphia forget about Home Run Baker, lined out a clean hit with Strunk on second.

A Pitching Tie.
New York at Detroit, in the American, played a sensational sixteen inning game which went to a 2 to 2 tie, darkness stopping the game. Remarkable fielding featured the game. Culp and Coveskie pitched the game. After a wild throw let in Detroit's two runs, Shawkey took Culp's place and yielded only three hits in eight innings, while Coveskie was unhit-able.

New York's climbing Giants made it nine straight by knocking hits off Salier, and defeated St. Louis 5 to 4. Robertson hit a home run, scoring four runs. The score was tied in the fifth when Tesreau was batted for two singles, a base on balls and a triple. The Giants won the game in the eighth.

Carey knocked out a home run at Pittsburgh which won the game for Pittsburgh, over Philadelphia by the score of 4 to 2.

WASHINGTON SEVENTH GRADERS TAKE RUBBER FROM THE FIFTH GRADE

In the final contest of a series of three games the Washington school eighth grade team at the Pine street diamonds yesterday afternoon won from the fifth grade by 28 to 8 score. This game settles the championship between the two teams the winners of yesterday having won the second contest of the series 14 to 12 and having lost the first game 10 to 14. William Teich and Charles Munson did the battery work for the series winners. Albert Gridley and William Bohlsen were on the mound for the losers.

MICHIGAN ATHLETES ARE TOO BUSY DANCING TO TRAIN.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Ann Arbor, May 20.—The dance craze is blamed by University of Michigan athletic authorities for the lack of interest in spring football practice, according to a story printed here. Certain men who are numbered on the squad claim they have no time for practice, but it has come to the knowledge of the coaches that these players have found time to attend in some cases, three dances a week. The average turnout for spring work on the gridiron has been about nine, compared to eighty out of the 1,500 students at Princeton, twenty-four at Harvard and sixty at Syracuse. Fifty-five Wolverines registered for football practice at the start of the vernal season.

Fielder Jones says that he is not worrying, but that does not go. Failing into last place is not making Jones humiliated, by any means. To be last in the race is not pleasant, especially for a manager who has given assurance that he would be in the thickest of the pennant fight and most probably win it. Jones' manager, Walter Jones must surely have had an awakening. His belief that the Federal league was the strongest body in the major circuits surely has been dispelled. It should not have taken many days to convince Jones that he was in error, for before the season opened the Cardinals gave the Browns a good beating, and since then the Browns have been a sort of door mat for the other teams in the American league. Even the Mackmen have worked themselves out of the cellar position at the expense of Jones' team.

Children Find Viking Relics.

An interesting find of Viking relics of the ninth century was recently discovered at Valtos, in the island of Lewis, by schoolchildren. The relics consisted of a pair of large oval brooches of a noted Scandinavian type, a small pennannular brooch, a disk-shaped ornament with a central boss and a decoration of interlaced loops, a small buckle, part of a bronze chain, probably used to connect the large oval brooches, and a single big amber bead.—London Globe.

Forty Years Ago

Janesville Daily Gazette, May 20, 1876.—A large quantity of grain is now being brought to the markets.

Several wagon loads of Odd Fellows left this city today for Whitewater where a meeting of the fraternity is held tonight.

Fresh peas are already on the market and are excellent in quality and "exalted" in price. They came all the way from Tennessee.

The Albion Academy will celebrate its anniversary on Tuesday, June 15th, exercises commencing at 1:30 p. m. Rev. J. L. Dudley of Milwaukee; Rev. T. P. Swann of Janesville, and Dr. J. W. Hoyt of Madison, will be present and address the audience. Rev. T. P.

Swann will address the alumni on Wednesday evening. The St. Joseph band of Madison will furnish the music for the occasion.

A meeting took place last night in the common council chamber, to organize the various committees for the county celebration of the Fourth of July. Several of the committees were formed, but the meeting, desirous of taking more time in the selection of men for the more important committees, and a wish to distribute them properly throughout the county, made another meeting at this time necessary. We are assured that the appointments on the committees will give general satisfaction, not only to the city, but to all the towns as well.

OFFICIAL NOTICE NO. 49.

To Paving Contractors.

Office of the Board of Public Works, City of Janesville, Wis., May 13, 1916.

Sealed proposals will be received at this office until the 13th day of June, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, for furnishing all the material and doing all the work necessary and required to improve the following named streets, to-wit:

Oakland Avenue, from the easterly side of Main Street to the west side of Forest Park Boulevard, and Forest Park Boulevard, from the south side of Ruger Avenue to the south side of Oakland Avenue, by grading to a sub-grade and paving with asphalt macadam requiring the following estimated quantities: 8,000 cubic yards of excavation, 14,468 square yards of paving, 80 lineal feet of cement curb and gutter, according to the respective specifications, plans and details thereof on file in the office of the city clerk of said city for the inspection of bidders.

Work shall be commenced on said street on or before the 1st day of July and the whole work shall be completed on or before the 15th day of September, 1916, failing in which the contractor shall pay to the city of Janesville as liquidated damages the sum of twenty-five dollars a day for each and every day's delay in completing said work.

Directors to BIDDERS.

Each bidder must accompany his bid with a contract and bond with not less than two sureties, who shall be freeholders of the State of Wisconsin, and shall justify as to their responsibility by their several affidavits showing that they are worth in the aggregate at least the amount of the entire contract price in property not by law exempt from execution. Surely companies having assets to do business in this state will be accepted in lieu of personal sureties.

Said contracts and bonds with sureties, must be completely executed on the part of the contractor, with the exception of the signatures of the part of the city. THIS IS A POSITIVE REQUIREMENT OF THE CHARTER AND MUST BE COMPLIED WITH. Bids failing to comply with the above requirements will not be considered.

Bidders must submit proposals to do the entire work, according to the respective specifications, plans, profiles and details thereof prepared for each street upon which such bid is made stating therein prices respectively for grading, paving, gutter, curb and gutter, for each square yard of pavement, per lineal foot for furnishing combined cement curb and gutter in place; so far as the same are applicable to said work, under and subject to the specifications, profiles and plans.

No bid will be considered unless it contains a price for doing the work, with the kind of asphalt, a sample of which has been approved by the Board of Public Works, and that does not contain prices for doing the entire work on the street upon which such bid is made, as called for in the specifications, profiles and plans.

All bids and the accompanying contracts and bonds must be written on the blanks prepared by the undersigned for the purpose, and prices should be stated in writing in figures.

Address all bids as follows: "Board of Public Works," with the name of the street upon which such bid is made marked on the envelope and the same with the city clerk of said city.

N. B. Blanks for proposals and blank contracts and bonds will be furnished on application to the city clerk. The bids when the lowest and best, will be decided by the Board of Public Works.

The said Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Signed:

JAS. A. FATHERS, P. M. CUMMINGS, C. W. KERCH, W. H. DOUGHERTY, Board of Public Works.
